UrbanRock Design is an art, architecture, and design studio that is committed to serving communities with the celebration of subtlety, connection to place, and altered perceptions. We appreciate working closely with stakeholders and clients for harmonious results. Their projects seek to transform the ordinary into moments of delight through transformation, appropriation, and reframing.

They have completed public art plazas, park features, gardens, integrated facades, transit stations, median islands, four-unit housing projects, single family houses, an office remodel, a museum remodel, furniture designs, art plans, and urban designs. This work has been built in several cities around the US, and has been awarded, exhibited, and published. Many projects involve strong community outreach components including workshops, presentations, research, and collaborations.

This project could include stand-alone sculpture, artwork sited at stormwater catchment site(s), and/or artwork integrated into, lighting, benches or bike racks.

Raleigh Arts needs your input about the upcoming public art project along Barwell Road. Please fill out the survey to help the artists understand what is important about your community.
