THE GLOBAL GUIDE TO

Commercial Real Estate Events and Conferences

BULLETIN

Preface

Commercial real estate conferences are one of the best ways to get face to face and make new connections. However, there are many options regarding which events to attend. Most conferences have a speciality, and it is important that you have the information available to best decide which events suit your needs.

Travel and Transact
Real estate is a relationship driven industry, it is imperitive that you select the event that has the best ROI and is also the most focused. Everything from CRE Tech events, to financing events is in this guide. Use our quick links to each event website to see if that event is a good fit. We hope you can use this guide as a valuable resource.

A Quicker Way to Make New onnections.
As an investment sales marketplace, we know that relationships drive business. However, in 2016 you don't always need to travel to meet great business contacts. We would like to invite you to our vetted real estate marketplace. We feel it is the quickest way to expand your network and close more deals.
